IMPORTANT NOTICE

Complaints have been coming into the JOURNAL Office from nurses, in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York and New Jersey, who have given their subscription orders, with remittance, to men who claim they are agents for various periodical service companies. These men tell the nurses they are medical students, working for a scholarship, and they present a two-payment card. The nurse is asked to pay the "student" a certain amount and remit the balance to the periodical company. Some of the nurses have given the entire amount to the agent. Waiting a reasonable length of time and receiving no JOURNAL, the nurse writes to the office. By that time the "student" has departed to new fields.

These men are not our agents—they are frauds.

We do not offer our JOURNAL in combination with any "popular" magazine.

We do not have a two-payment system.

To District, State and Alumnae Associations we are making a special three months offer. You will find it on page 39 of the advertising section in this number of the JOURNAL. Ten associations have taken advantage of this offer. To the representative appointed from each association we have sent a letter of authorization, written on the JOURNAL's green letter-head and signed by Katharine DeWitt, Business Manager.

We earnestly request the cooperation of every hospital superintendent and every nurse in this country to the extent of warning her nurses against, and refusing to give new or renewal subscriptions to, these so-called "university students," or any other person who can not show a letter of authorization from the JOURNAL office.

Mellin's Food

In every step in the manufacture of Mellin's Food there is constantly in view the ultimate object of making a product of definite composition to Accomplish a Definite Purpose.

This purpose is to furnish certain food elements which, when added to cow's milk, make it a suitable food for an infant. The food elements in Mellin's Food — carbohydrates (maltose and dextrins), proteins and salts — when dissolved in water and added to cow's milk so change the balance of nutrition in cow's milk that the resulting modification presents fat, proteins, carbohydrates and salts in the proportion needed for the Development of Infantile Life.

The success of Mellin's Food, therefore, depends not upon any one of the food elements of which it is made up, but upon the definite composition of "Mellin's Food as a whole" as a means to enable the physician to modify cow's milk to meet the requirements of infant feeding in a Scientific, Rational and Efficient Manner.

“Built for Service”

The six sizes—new-born infant, two months, four months, one year, four years, and adult—meet every teaching requirement. Their dimensions are standard in each case. They are made of stockinet and cotton batting, waterproofed with high-grade, flexible paint. The two largest sizes may be purchased with internal reservoirs for demonstration and practice of various methods of douching, catheterization and internal irrigations.

The CHASE HOSPITAL DOLL and The CHASE HOSPITAL BABY, demonstration manikins for teaching the care of children, the sick and injured, are made by trained artisans who give infinite care and thought to each detail. “Built for Service” is the policy behind all CHASE PRODUCTS.

Nothing but the sturdiest material goes into these products. They are made of cloth and cotton batting that have been molded into the human form. They have hard, raised features, and flexible joints. They have naturally formed bodies, heads, arms and legs, that conform to standard measurements. They are covered with several thick coats of durable, waterproof paint. The larger models are equipped with openings, connected with water-tight reservoirs, representing the meatus, nasal, urethral, vaginal, and rectal passages.

The CHASE HOSPITAL DOLL and The CHASE HOSPITAL BABY, because of their inherent durability and because they permit such great flexibility and wide latitude in the demonstrations and practice of medical, surgical, and hygienal principles, are in daily use all over the world in Hospitals, Nurses' Training Schools, Home Nursing Classes, Baby Clinics, Mothers' Classes, and by Visiting Nurses and Baby-Welfare Workers. They are standard and necessary equipment.

Let us send you our latest catalogue, which will describe these manikins in detail.

Pawtucket, R. I.

COMPLETE oral hygiene as practised by nurses and other attendants is not only recognized as good administration, but is a necessary precautionary measure adopted by medical directors, superintendents and superintendents of nurses in the safeguarding of patients.

Interest in sanitary, healthy mouths of hospital personnel grows steadily. The subject will receive even more attention in the future.

Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream does all that a dentifrice can do in cleansing the teeth and maintaining oral hygiene.

Colgate's Dental Powder holds a high position among those of the dental profession who prefer a dentifrice in powder form. As with Ribbon Dental Cream, it is based on the same fine precipitated chalk and pure soap.

A copy of "A Babe in the House" booklet and a generous supply of samples will be sent to registered nurses postpaid on request.

Intimate advice

EVERY nurse owes it to herself, her patients, and her fellow-nurses to be particular about her personal cleanliness. Clean linen alone will not do it—it is just as necessary to be free of all odors arising from perspiration and all other causes.

Amolin is the one safe and effective personal deodorant. It absolutely destroys odors and keeps the body clean smelling. It is especially effective in destroying the odor of sanitary napkins. It heals and prevents chafing—better than talcum.

Amolin The Personal Deodorant Powder

Amolin comes in two sizes—30c and 60c—at drug and department stores. Send to us for free sample and booklet of uses.

Before and After the crisis—

—when conservation of strength is essential, the value of Liebig Company's Extract of Beef is more emphasized than ever.

A ¼ teaspoonful added to a cupful of hot milk enables the patient, even when the gastric functions are deranged, to digest the milk with greater ease, and to absorb more proteid than would otherwise be the case.

A patient who dislikes milk will usually take it if a little Liebig Company's Extract of Beef be added.

LIPPINCOTT'S Nursing Manuals

Complete—Practical—Standard

Cooke's Handbook of Obstetrics

Ninth Edition Revised by Carolyn E. Gray, R.N. and Philip F. Williams, M.D.

It is not merely a treatise on nursing but a work on obstetrics for nurses, giving all of the science and art of midwifery that a nurse need know, and should know, to practice her profession intelligently.

Materia Medica and Therapeutics

Third Edition

FOOTE

Remedies have been classified in a logical therapeutic grouping, much material concerning methods of administration, definitions, prescriptions, and the newer remedies. The chapters dealing with the preparation of solutions and fractional doses will be found to be a comprehensive summary free from involved mathematics, making the teaching of this subject usually so vexatious, a simple matter.

Essentials of Medicine

Third Edition

EMERSON

As a text-book of medicine for nurses it takes rank in a place hitherto unfilled. It is clear, concise, simple and logical and presents the essential points and principles of medicine in an easily understandable and readily retainable form. The causes, reasons and effects of the various psychologic and pathologic processes taking place have been most lucidly given.

Surgical and Gynaecological Nursing

2nd Edition Revised Parker and Breckenridge

This practical work covers minutely every phase of the duties of gynaecological and surgical nursing. Extra space is given to surgical instruments. For each operation they are laid out and photographed, numbered and named.

Wilson's Fever Nursing

As a nurse's manual, Dr. Wilson's work is unique. It is the standard, and in fact monopolizes the field.

State Board Questions and Answers

Second Edition

FOOTE

This is a guide book to student nurses and their teachers.

The questions have been taken from actual State papers in thirty-one states and Canada, giving in a condensed form the general type of questions. This volume supplements but does not supplant text-books.

The nurse knows

NO ONE knows better than the nurse, the rightful value of a soothing, salve-like paper, to the patient suffering from anal or rectal disorders.

Sani-Tissue is a perfect boon for pain-racked patients. Its soft, cloth-like texture is most gratifying to sufferers. It is medicated and balsam treated.

Sani-Tissue is truly the nurse's aid. It is the sick-room toilet paper. Good druggists, everywhere, sell it. FREE sample roll on request.

Its Proper Place in Therapy

"Happily we have a drug which, if given in sufficient amount, cures rickets. Cod-liver oil has been used therapeutically almost one hundred years, but even today it has not been accorded its proper place in therapy,"

Hess: Jour. A.M.A., March 12, 1921

The "S. & B. Process"

Clear Norwegian (Lofoten) Cod-liver Oil is a product of especial care, and is an absolutely pure Lofoten oil, derived from the livers of fresh caught, true Gadus Morrhuae. For those needing the nourishing and anti-rachitic benefits of cod-liver oil, we strongly recommend the "S. & B. Process."

Liberal samples of this unique oil will be sent to any registered nurse, prepaid, on request

Youth is Flexible

Grace and Agility Can be Yours

When you step into a boat, spring into a car or climb a rail fence on a cross-country tramp, you will quickly discover whether you possess the grace and agility natural to youth.

Your tirelessness and zest for autumn fun depend a great deal upon the condition of your feet. Feet held rigidly in stiff shank shoes tire easily and hamper your enjoyment.

Feet that can exercise freely in flexible Cantilever Shoes permit you to engage in sports that require lithe, supple movements and help you to keep young.

The flexible arch of the Cantilever Shoe lets your own arch flex naturally, which strengthens the muscles, and enables them to hold the bones of the feet in an arched position. This prevents and corrects a weak foot.

Fashion favors the modish rounded toe and medium heel of Cantilevers for all day-time wear and for semi-dress occasions.

All Cantilever Shoes are made of fine materials and trade-marked for your protection. Be sure the name appears on the shoe before you buy it.

Cantilever dealers all over the country understand this shoe in its relation to the foot. One dealer only in each city except in New York. If no dealer in the panel at the left is near you, write the manufacturers, Morse & Burt Co., 3 Carlton Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., for the name and address of a nearby dealer and a booklet that tells about shoes in a new way.

DR. JUNIOR: "Doctor, there is just one other interesting point I had overlooked, and one you may be able to explain."

Dr. SENIOR: "Well, what is it?"

DR. JUNIOR: "The old-fashioned poultices—bread-and-milk, linseed meal, and so on—always grow so cold in a few hours as to give one the creeps, almost——"

DR. SENIOR: "Exactly. Go on——"

DR. JUNIOR: "Antiphlogistine, I have observed, retains its heat for as long as twenty-four hours. How do you account for that scientifically?"

DR. SENIOR: "In this way, Doctor. Antiphlogistine, a scientific product, is the result of a working knowledge of Chemistry as well as Physics. The heat-retaining property is due to the chemical reaction which goes on during osmosis between c. p. glycerine of Antiphlogistine and the waters of the tissues. It is constant until full saturation has been reached—which averages about twenty-four hours."

DR. JUNIOR: "I see where you are right in maintaining that Antiphlogistine is NOT A MERE 'poultice'. I had my doubts about it remaining warm for such a long time."

HEMORRHOIDAL SUPPOSITORIES

Physicians tell us

That surprisingly few Mothers pass through pregnancy, confinement and convalescence, without suffering from Hemorrhoids, or lesser rectal troubles likely to develop into Hemorrhoids.

With proper treatment, at the right time, few of these cases need ever reach the stage of necessary operation. ANUSOL SUPPOSITORIES, prescribed by physicians of all nations, for nearly a quarter of a century, score some of their best results in the Hemorrhoids of that period.

Besides, they reduce the need of internal medication to relieve constipation.

Which means better, and more digestible Mother's milk for the Infant, and a quicker return to normalcy for the Mother.

In and About the Sick Room,

ALKALOL is the nurse's assistant to promote her patient's comfort and to increase her reputation for knowing how best to take care of a case.

ALKALOL has many uses. It is an ideal "Sponge-off." It cools and freshens a fever parched mouth. It brings comfort to a burning, dry, itching or smarting skin. Used as a douche, irrigating fluid, injection, wet dressing, spray, or gargle, ALKALOL subdues mucous membrane revolt, cleanses, restores tone to relaxed tissues or over-stimulated cells.

The nurse who knows ALKALOL, is a personal user of ALKALOL, able therefore, to speak from experience in suggesting its use, which has been approved by the physician in charge of the case.

Sample and literature to nurses on request.

The incompetent ileocecal valve

A. Normal Ileocecal Valve.

B. Partially Incompetent Ileocecal Valve.

C. Wholly Incompetent Ileocecal Valve.

Reproduced from "Colon Hygiene," by J. H. Kellogg, M.D.

ONE of the consequences of chronic constipation is incompetency of the valve which governs the flow of food waste from the small intestine into the colon. The valve thus impaired, permits the putrefying contents of the colon to pass back into the small intestine.

A noted authority states that medicinal laxatives increase the reflux from the colon into the small intestine, while liquid petrolatum aids the action of the small intestine but does not cause reflux.

Nurses will find Nujol particularly valuable for the relief of intestinal troubles. The action of Nujol closely resembles that of the natural lubricating mucus secreted in the bowel, which is deficient when constipation exists. Nujol takes its place, lubricates the bowel contents and so assists their expulsion from the body. As Nujol is not a laxative it cannot gripe. And like pure water it is harmless and pleasant.

Nujol is prescribed by physicians and is used in leading hospitals throughout the world.

Send for nurse's sample and special 16-page booklet, "On a Case", to Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), Room 769, 44 Beaver Street, New York.
